INDIANS EUSE SUIT

Turkey Hill Tribe's Claim Barred by Statute of Limitations—After 38 Years.

New Haven, Oct. 28.—A decision has been given by Judge Curtis in the case of McClellan Mathewson vs. Eunice Wakeley, sustaining that defendant's demurrer to the complaint on the grounds that plaintiff's claim is barred by limitation and that it was not alleged in the complaint that defendant had turned any of the amount in dispute to his personal use. The suit is a claim over 38 years old, made by some of the Indians living around Turkey Hill, near Derby, to recover the proceeds of the sale of reservation lands, which had been in charge of Eunice Wakeley, now deceased. The suit involved is between $90 and $70, which is partly in the Derby savings bank, and partly invested in a building lot in this city.

Internal Revenues Taking a Jump

New Haven After Ramie Fibre Plant

New Haven, Oct. 28.—Another new concern that will in all probability locate its new plant in this city is the Howard Ramie Fibre company of New York city, which is announcing its intention to build a mill here which will employ several hundred people. A meeting of a number of prominent business men interested in the advancement of New Haven interests to inquire into the proposition and go over the plans is to be held this afternoon in the rooms of the chamber of commerce at four o'clock.

It is claimed that the company has a new process for treating the ramie fibre which will enable it to produce ramie yarns and fabrics superior in strength and equal in beauty to the finest grades of linen or silk and at a lower price than the ordinary grades of cotton. The company has a plant now at Kenilworth, New Jersey and offices and laboratory in New York city. Interested New Haven people have visited the plant and will report upon it.

AGED BUILDER KILLED BY FALL

Neck of William L. Savage Broken and He Dies Instantly.

William L. Savage, aged 67 years, fell down stairs last evening at his home 756 Maplewood avenue and was instantly killed. His daughter, Mrs. Frank H. Stanfield, with whom he lived had gone across the street about 6 o'clock to a grocery store and returned in a few minutes. On her return she found the body of her father at the foot of the stairs. Physicians were summoned but on their arrival they found that death was instantaneous. The skull being fractured and the neck broken. Mr. Savage, who retired from active business about two years ago, had been in the best of health until Monday when he complained of feeling dizzy with pains in his head.

Probably no man in the building business for the past thirty years was better known than Mr. Savage. For many years he was a member of the firm of Savage and Smith, builders, who had an extensive plant on Cannon street. Later the firm dissolved partnership. Mr. Savage carrying on the business himself under the name of W. L. Savage Building Co., which company was in existence for ten years. Later he accepted the position of supervisors of the construction department of the American Graphophone Co., a position which he held up to the time of his retirement two years ago.

He is survived by two daughters Mrs. Frank H. Stanfield, with whom he made his home and Mrs. Farnam C. Fox, wife of the seller of the Pequonnock National bank.

JOHN J. CULLINAN

Democratic Candidate for Board of Education, Yale Man and Counselor.

John J. Cullinan, one of the Democratic candidates for the board of education, is a native of Springfield, Massachusetts, but has lived in Bridgeport since he was four years of age and he received his education in the Bridgeport public schools up to the time he entered the academic department of Yale University. He graduated from the Bridgeport High School in 1883 and from Yale University in 1887.

After finishing his course in the academic department of Yale, Mr. Cullinan followed newspaper work for two years, beginning in this field with the Evening Chronicle of St. Louis, Mo., and he was for a year connected with the Bridgeport Evening Farmer. In 1893 he completed his education by a tour of South America, which occupied several months. He returned to this city from South America in December, 1899, and that same month took his examinations for the bar, being among the first applicants for membership at the bar who were compelled to pass the examination before a committee of judges under the present system.

He began the practice of law in this city in 1901. Six months thereafter, associated with him his brother Thomas M. Cullinan, the present city attorney, who had just become a member of the bar and the firm has continued in the successful practice of law in this city since that time. During the first four years of his legal practice, he taught night school and was, for a short period, substitute teacher of Latin and mathematics in the Bridgeport High school, so that during most of his life he has been in close touch with educational matters.

HENRY J. CLAMPETT
He is a Business Man and Has Served Three Terms as Alderman.

Henry J. Clampett, whom the Democrats of the Sixth district have selected as their candidate for alderman, hardly needs an introduction to the people of Bridgeport. Although he was not born in this city, but in New York, he has lived here so long that he is known to everybody. He is proprietor of the Clampett stable, at 1799 Main street and lives at 138 Town street. He is energetic and knows the needs of the city. The business which he has built up speaks for itself as to his knowledge of practical affairs. He has already been sent to the aldermanic chambers three times by the voters of his district and in appealing to them this year for their votes he does so with those years of experience in city government to recommend him.

A novelty is a hat made almost entirely of wings. The brim is formed of them, and it is arranged to overlap with the tips pointing upward and the crown encircled with a wreath of tiny pinions.
